Chapter 4 The Politics, Laws, and Ethics of Neurological Weapons

"I got to see what they have been working on with enormous ramifications to all social order, a new world order of electronically controlled humans without their knowledge or consent."

- quote from a whistleblower.

Topics and Take-a-ways from this chapter:

1. Understanding of the politics involved in the continued use of neurological weaponry
2. The various laws that might be applicable and how legal trickery is used to justify their use
3. The ethics and moral depravity of the existence of such weapons.

Obviously the technology has been kept secret on the most part due to the huge ramification on social order. All of western philosophy from religion to crime and punishment relies upon a concept called "free will". How would people react if a pentagon official came forward to tell the truth and describe these experiments on humans and the behavioral torture and assassination projects on the news? It has also been a useful interrogation and spy tool. But due to the endless train of abuses, people are finally speaking up. There are many groups around the world that have organized into non-violent protests of becoming slaves of US human experimentation using these technologies and techniques. These groups go under many names. The psychology community wants to discredit them as psychotic, but due to their own definitions any group that believes something irrationally is not crazy as long as it is part of their culture. This is how they excuse religious people from being classified crazy. But this same exception allows for these groups who "share a common delusion" of radiofrequency control of the brain to be classified not crazy because of their group affiliation. The CIA paid psychologists, snake medicine healers, have hoisted themselves by their own petard of faulty logic<sup>52</sup>. Another example of faulty, circular logic in the DSM of mental illness is that if a person suffers from a 'delusion' and another person believes them, they too through transference of delusion can be classified crazy. This is the kind of sub-par thinking that allowed witches to be burned and the Earth to be believed to be flat for so long. Normalization of beliefs of the masses has nothing to do with truth and reality. The psychology community has been used to dispose of some of the greatest thinkers of our time.

The philosophical debate of 'free will' has gone on for millennia and even still occurs in some college dorms today, but the debate has long since been over. It only occurs because of the lack of understanding of the physics of mind. The mind has been proven to be completely controllable under constrained conditions. Creating a delusion of freewill and choice helps placate the populous of any society, be it a fake democracy or communist country. We are after all just human animals according to DARPA documents.

"All is fair in love and war." - a common proverb.

There have been reports of satanic ritual abuse all over the world in large numbers, yet not a single satanic cult is listed in the FBI's top 300 terror groups. Why is that? Is it because they are mostly CIA, NSA,

Word History: The French used pétard, "a loud discharge of intestinal gas," for a kind of infernal engine for blasting through the gates of a city. "To be hoist by one's own petard," a now proverbial phrase apparently originating with Shakespeare's Hamlet (around 1604) not long after the word entered English (around 1598), means "to blow oneself up with one's own bomb, be undone by one's own devices." The French noun pet, "fart," developed regularly from the Latin noun peditum, from the Indo-European root *pezd-, "fart." – Thefreedictionary.com and DoD funded projects? Is it because the people who report this horrific crime have been discredited according to many CIA documents outlining the program strategy? Is it because the psychology community has come up with a term called Satanic Panic and False Memory Syndrome to put the general public's fears down that this is what is occurring? Other than the Frank Church Congressional Hearings in 1973, where tens of thousands of documents were destroyed by the Director of the CIA, there hasn't been a government funded investigation into claims of torture by thousands of Americans with physical or more advanced high tech torture methods. How is that possible?

Crimes against humanity and human rights abuses are common. Over half the governments in the world use torture. How can America have any moral standing in the world and U.N. when it is behind some of the most horrific mind crimes ever conceived? Do Russia and China have this technology? Many people have told the author of this book to "give it up. Forget what has happened." But this is the attitude which allows the mistakes of the past to keep repeating themselves. Why conspire to allow the future generations to suffer as we have and repeat the same dumb mistakes?

Societies will eventually catch up with this knowledge and hopefully use it responsibly for the betterment of mankind. Gravity upset the Catholic Church with Galileo's discovery. Christopher Columbus was told not to go on his trip because he would fall off the edge of the Earth and be eaten by Dragons was the popular belief of the time. In a few decades, the uneducated people will be allowed to understand and believe the true nature of their existence (Year 2025 according to Air Force documents). Free Will as a concept will be ridiculed by future generations just like this generation scoffs at the Roman and Greek Gods. Rationality and logic has proven a far superior way for our species to understand its environment and model reality.

All politicians practice demagoguery, which is to cater to the loudest voices. Silencing those who are being tortured and experimented on and not allowing them to form a single voice is yet another unfair objective of the CIA. This makes it difficult or impossible to find justice for those families who were wronged and the people who were killed and destroyed for the CIA and DoD's un-American, un-Democratic, disgraceful, and dishonorable objectives. Officers in the military are sworn to uphold the Constitution of the United States, yet few can recite anything from the Bill of Rights or the documents that created this country. They rely on White House lawyers to interpret for them. A very dangerous and precarious position our country is in indeed!

A common question for people who undergo this kind of horrific torture is "Who is responsible?" The question is complex. 120+ institutions were implicated in the 70's for these crimes on the American public before. But a simple answer is that the Department of Defense supplies the budget, the NSA supplies the top scientists, and the CIA/DIA supplies the behavioral scientists and operators with flexible morals.

Side Note

The researchers of this book conducted extensive testing of communication patterns on a random population to understand who is most receptive to truth and why and how some people reject the obvious.

Smarter the person based on IQ, education, and how well read they were, the more likely and quickly they comprehended the ramifications. The middle percentage of the IQ distribution needed more clues of authority and more 'evidence' from media before they started to grasp the material. Those who had served in the military were also more likely to quickly believe on average.

People who lived an average life and average corporate job were the least likely to believe the technology existed. They often even became angry that one would even mention it. Some said that they simply were too scared to know anymore and rather remain ignorant so that their government would not come after them.

We conducted experiments by hiring 20+ actors to surround people in public places incognito. We wanted to understand the so called 'sheeple effect' of belief systems. As expected the success rates of the target to believe some seemingly outlandish ideas but which were true increased dramatically when they heard random people talking about it and felt left behind. This is why a fashion industry formed, what is called benign mind viruses in the field of study. 95% of populations do not and cannot think for themselves due to their strong herding algorithms.

Discussion Questions:

- 4.1 The masterminds behind these technologies should have a 'coming-to-Jesus'. How can they be brought to justice for their international human rights crime spree? How can it be proven to the public if these technologies are classified secret and the crime wizards hide behind the veil of national security?
- 4.2 Humans only sympathize the suffering of and mourn the loss of people they know. They don't seem to care about those that suffer whom they don't know. Is this a moral failing in our human nature and will it lead to our ultimate demise?
- 4.3 Have U.S. elections been rigged in this fashion? Over 650 people have come forward to say that they were being tortured while trying to vote during George W. Bush's run for the second term. How large are these mind control 'war games' and 'experiments' and their influence over democratic governments?
- 4.4 Does true freedom of religion exist if religious leaders can be tricked into hearing the voice of God using this technology?
- 4.5 Are religious zealots in the DoD/CIA behind making biblical predictions come true or are they just playing into Bible scripture for their own personal career gains?
- 4.6 Everyone has inalienable rights to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. What good is a country if the people put trust in a government that doesn't follow the constitution and bill of rights? All those brave and honorable soldiers that fought to uphold American values and character have been forsaken.

- 4.7 How have these technologies been used for the manipulation of American voting system? How can they be used for staged false flag media events?
- 4.8 How can these technologies be used for black mail, extortion, and discrediting? Even the US government senate intelligence committee was being listened into during our conferences.
- 4.9 Is it unfair to create human's reality for them? Those that can walk a mile in everyone's shoes are called empathic or shape shifters. They can adapt to any social situation.
- 4.10 Why do the Russians and U.S. appear to be in a tacit conspiracy to keep this technology secret and in use? Hint: Think about nuclear technology. Think about people's careers in agencies. Why doesn't one country look like the world's hero and divulge the technology and the jamming defenses for its citizens?
- 4.11 What is tacit signaling in business jargon? Understand game theory, John Nash equilibriums, and the prisoners' dilemma?

Legal Issues

"We must guard against unwarranted influence, whether sought or unsought, by the military industrial [media] complex." - President and General Eisenhower

Intentional information poisoning of the mind is like a nerve gas that can't be detected. Television can be likened to cultural pollution on the most part. It is a type of occupation, not of a country, but of the mind. It hobbles the mind in order for people not to be able to think independently and for themselves. Mind poisoning can also be likened to mass statistical murder depending on its intention.

These are relatively new kinds of crimes, at least old types of crimes using new technologies. Illegal surveillance, memory

This is a separate security apparatus that would not be looked upon as kindly as did President Reagan's Iran Contra dealings. It allows the CIA to bypass laws preventing them from directly assassinating other leaders in other countries for example or even in our own country. Project Artichoke even suggests it. It allows them to bypass spying and wiretapping laws in the United States through indirection and creates in their twisted legal rationalizations cruel warping of power.

The Electronic Surveillance Act has been interpreted very specifically rather than its intention. It specifically mentions that only electronic eavesdropping is illegal by government without court approval. The brain and its electrical circuits are not considered by DIA/CIA lawyers as electronic. In addition active sensing RADAR or passive sensing technologies like deep infrared thermo imaging are often exceptions to this Act. It will not be updated due to the influences of "national security". Hence, corruption at the most trusted levels occurs. These so called loopholes are taken advantage of. Even ion Doppler scatter sensing of neural activity, breathing and heartbeats movement of organs, through wall radar, or IR laser bounce from windows is considered legal surveillance techniques by these organizations.

Assassination Loopholes and False Flag Operations

"The Constitution says that civilians can be recruited during time of war. The U.S. is always at war. Mind controlled, tortured, raped, and brainwashed, it clearly doesn't specify. What a grotesque illusion of a country we have become. Scam artists, liars, cheaters, and poor thinkers. We are the disease now. We are trained to think this way. We do not represent America honorably anymore. I am just the artificial conscience of what they were supposed to be. Mankind is obsolete."

— A quote from a DoD target who said this is what she heard.

"The people through neural telepathy said that I was property of the Department of Defense, sequestered to do false flag operations in the United States for helping mobilize the war on terrorism. I didn't obey and was further tortured accordingly."

To honor those good Americans whom have fallen while trying to bring truth, justice, and liberty, we must remember that those safeguards to protect liberty may ultimately be the ones that take it away. Many of our friends have been tortured, betrayed, and killed by the very government that they worked for and whose country's values they believed in. This book is dedicated to one of many fallen American heroes, Darin Smith, a Coast Guard rescue swimmer, whom, us the writers, met in Washington D.C. while protesting and giving testimony to representatives and congressmen during George Bush's reign of power with little results of justice.

These 60+ year old technologies which appear like magic or science fiction to the majority of the population have caused a discontinuity in social justice and government checks and balances. In this section we are analyzing a small fraction of them.

A value that modern western civilization has enforced is intellectual property. It is a difficult concept to define since we all stand on the shoulders of mental giants of the past to be where we are in our understanding today. In order to alter the natural order, ideas are stolen and piped into other individual minds in a technology transfer. The entire idea of patents and intellectual property is nullified by the few that control this neural weapons technology. It all becomes irrelevant. Think about a future race where we are all connected at the speed of light into one global brain project or cybernetic hive mind. It is happening. Where do intellectual property and the reward system for individual achievement come into play?

Obviously, the right to privacy and illegal search and seizure has been forsaken in our country's values. The slow progression towards fascism plagues every civilization and America reached it in record time. Privacy is simply a lie based on these technologies discussed in the book. Mental rape or mental vivisection is as close of a description as can be described by remote viewing and influence.

Why can't citizens legally look at certain spectrums with scanners? Scanners are purposefully designed so that they are not allowed to look at various spectrums by the citizens even if those frequency spectrums are hurting them. All frequencies resonate with something and if those frequencies are being used to harm the citizens, why can we not look at them without breaking the law to gather evidence?

Discussion Questions:

4.12 How could a government come clean from doing these crimes to their citizens? Could they say they just suddenly invented these technologies? Perhaps, aliens stopped visiting the earth? Or they found a cure to some kinds of schizophrenia. What cover stories might work for the masses in order for them to trust their government again using a lie?

George Bush's legal team has been accused for the sloppiest legal reasoning ever by a white house regime. Dick Cheney and other partially aware members like Donald Rumsfeld used this sloppy legal reasoning to overthrow American values and its character.

The Geneva conventions and many other international treaties were laid to rest during the last 16 years. Why would any other country obey them if the United States will not interpret the value of no torture doctrines putting our soldiers further at risk?

When U.S. citizens get tortured it falls under the Bill of Rights and the Constitution. That too was nullified quickly with cruel and unusual punishment. No-touch torture by non-lethal weapons is far worse than just being nuked or murdered quickly. We have inalienable rights; right to life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness. The depression signal to death and brain scrambling are illegal in our country but done anyway.

The CIA studies in its behavioral psychology division and researches how to incite wars for the divide and conquer strategy. This even occurs in the U.S. subcultures of non-dominant religions and sub-races. These techniques were used to discredit both civil rights and woman movements in history. Unfortunately, these crimes are difficult to prove and forgiven when done by trusted leaders.

Another: "I am convinced that the Jews are behind my torture."

Another: "The Christians are behind my harassment."

Another: "It is the Iranians that are doing this to me."

Another: "They said that they were Russian and are task to torture me because they want world domination and they overthrew my country's government."

These are known as induction of hate crimes by the federal conspiracy. They are useful in world domination strategies of wars of attrition. Empires gain their strength through shared military and taxation bases.

Every safe guard that the real Americans and thinkers tried to create, the CIA and DoD overturned in their legal ranks to justify these loopholes.

torture. Microwave weapons can cause the intense sensation of burning without burning the flesh for example. But with cerebral cloning, the peripheral nerves are bypassed altogether inserting the perception of pain and torture directly into the mind. This legal argument is of course flawed like many DoD/CIA legal arguments. It would be equivalent to say that if they implanted electrodes in the skull and used very small amounts of electricity to alter brain activity that it would not be torture. Just because the signal is wireless, it still acts as a bypass from efferent nerves into the brainstem and cerebral cortex of brain signals making the sentient creature feel pain and suffering. Torture is a state of mind that perceives it no matter how it is administered nor short circuited via so-called no-touch-torture technologies.

The DoD/CIA use similar arguments with psychological tortures such as if we have a prerecorded tape or a computer speech program threaten the person with death, our people never actually said those things and hence they aren't breaking the law as it is written with enhanced interrogation and torture techniques. These are obviously flawed reasoning and overt tactics to bypass rule of law. Is this just subconscious sabotage of their own country for furthering their own careers and relevance or is it gross incompetence that has led to this dishonorable and disgraceful behavior?

"If you have been tortured, you realize there are things far worse than death."

- A United States MKULTRA project

It is often reported by victims of torture and brainwashing that the agents impersonate the FBI and High Ranking Officers in every branch of government including presidents and their voices. How is this possibly legal? Why isn't the American public told about this?

The CIA and Black Water use the legal argument that we outsource torture and the people doing it are not part of our agency. Has our legal reasoning and morals become so flexible and irrelevant to our country?

"We are not torturing people a computer is. We do not say we will kill their families. We have a recording to do it," said by the morally flexible.

"We are not spying on the American people electronically; we are just actively and passively sensing their ion gradients. This technically doesn't violate the Electronic Eavesdropping Act."

"We are not murdering people. They are killing themselves by our influence." By the DoD's admissions of self manipulative murder is not murder. These rationalizations are what destroyed anything fundamentally unique about our country. As if we need to make the entangled legal justice system more complex, for the simply twisted minds we need to define murder as a gradient of years lost rather than a binary, black and white system. They currently use murder-after-the-fact, such as poisoning someone, in the laws that don't describe the time til death. They use something like 48 hours after an incident to describe murder-after-the-face. This is absurd. Slow torture and information poisoning of the cellular transmission is most certainly murder or worse.

"Simulated rape is different than physical rape because the intention is different and less dangerous in terms of pregnancy and communicable diseases," is another justification by the CIA/DoD.

"Yes, all our officers swore to uphold the Constitution, but as long as we outsourced our crimes we are not responsible. We can't stop the CIA unless the president has declared them as a domestic enemy."

"This is not a Federal conspiracy; we are organized by secrecy for national security." The rationalizations are endless in the immoral construct.

American citizens use the false rationalization, "They wouldn't have tortured you, if you didn't do anything wrong. They only torture terrorists from foreign countries." The Jews in Nazi Germany used similar rationalizations as they were taken away family by family.

All the military branches have laws against experimenting on pregnant women and prisoners. Why were these laws even necessary? Now who do you think they target? The Mind Hacking Strategy Group has found many targets of human experimentation in prison and who are pregnant. No one can enforce these laws since the checks and balances themselves are corrupt.

international treaties. How could this behavior be justified by the United States intelligence offices?

Unfortunately, TV shows like CSI or other forensic FBI shows give the public a false sense of competency in the agencies. Forensics used by law enforcement only look for physical evidence to link an individual to a crime. Electro-magnetics are not considered physical despite Einstein's equation  $E=mc^2$ . They have neither expertise nor directive to look at radio frequency influence nor hypnotically programmed people nor another government agency setting up crimes to dispose of the target. The FBI has falsely claimed to have solved many murders since they only go so far as finding a person and not the criminal minds in another branch of government behind the programming of some people. Maybe someday the directors will teach these brainwashing and programming techniques to their subordinates so that they can really solve these crimes. Until then, the FBI and local authorities are often used as pawns to dispose of the project after they have completed their mission. This of course is a false sense of justice. Remember witch trials and pointing the finger at African-Americans for misdirection of false justice for public perceptions were commonly used in America's history.

Are there secret unconstitutional laws which help rationalize torture and murder of U.S. citizens using these silent weapons?

Currently, the 1991 Federal Policy for the Protection of Human Subjects is the binding regulation on human-subject research for 17 federal agencies including the military and the intelligence agencies. Although it outlines the guidelines for informed consent, it also states, "Unless otherwise required by law, department or agency heads may waive the applicability of some or all of the provisions of this policy." In other words, a person participating in an experiment must be informed and give his consent unless a high-level government official doesn't think it is necessary. Not surprisingly, this authority doesn't stop with the heads of agencies and departments. The president also has the power to waive or modify these provisions through a presidential directive, which he can issue at any time, refuse to make public, and do without any person's or body's approval.

Therefore, until a federal statute that secures the right of informed consent for anyone subjected to classified human experimentation is passed by the legislature and signed into law by the president, the U.S.

government has the power to carry out research projects without his consent and without informing the participants of the dangers or future complications.<sup>53</sup>

This apparently allows for torture to death experiments by purpose or accident, euphemistically called behavior modification by the CIA.

There are many other protection laws but it is unclear to what the policy applies. How the constitution doesn't apply is baffling to most competent legal advisors.

The United States Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) has been implicated in Cold War era human experimentation on U.S. citizens for weapons development. Section 46.101 states consent but enforcing such policy and laws is impossible.

"... we have identified hundreds of radiological, chemical, and biological tests and experiments in which hundreds of thousands of people were used as test subjects. ... These tests and experiments were conducted to support weapon development programs ..."<sup>54</sup>

"Some agencies of the Federal government sponsor research involving human subjects, but these agencies have not adopted the Common Rule as provided for in part 46 of title 45, Code of Federal Regulations."

"Private individuals or institutions that do not receive any Federal funding or that are not seeking the approval of the Food and Drug Administration for a drug or device, and that sponsor research involving human subjects, do not need to abide by the requirements of part 46 of title 45, Code of Federal Regulations."<sup>55</sup>

Even the New York Times published an article "Republicans See Signs That Pentagon Is Evading Oversight" in September 29, 2005.

Interviewee: "I would rather have been accused of being a witch. At least the so called witches got to hear their accusers and accusations during their kangaroo court trial then sentenced to being tortured and burned at the stake. How far the United States has slipped backwards into meaningless values can be exemplified by the fact that hundreds if not thousands of U.S. citizens get tortured in this manner without any media attention or due process.

I am very disappointed, embarrassed, and disgraced by what I know now. Yes, of course I tried to join lawsuits, but what you quickly find out is that the federal government can't be sued unless congress agrees to it. They are even capped for damages at $100,000 for killing, raping, and torturing anyone assuming you can prove it. Executive privilege and national security protects their confessions, documents, and secrets. They have perfected leaving-no-trace in their murders, human experimentation, and brainwashing methods. It is so pathetic that people give their lives as soldiers for something they will eventually figure out to be empty...just propaganda and lies. Our country's values, bill of rights, and constitution are empty these days. Presidents are not informed or silenced if they dare tell the public how this all works. The American people would be horrified to see how their tax dollars in the black budget are really spent killing their children.

There will be no justice in my lifetime. I imagine if this era of torture is ever uncovered in the future, some president will apologize for these acts while turning a blind eye to the same types of atrocities committed during their stint which has been the patterns of the past. Each generation is duped in the same way."

The question then arises what evidence might work in our current dysfunctional justice system besides the testimony of hundreds of people?

The expense to prove these atrocities is enormous in terms of equipment, expert testimony, and time. The educational background in many fields of science must be high and one wouldn't be able to find a jury or judge with these qualifications. The expertise is extremely rare and many would fear for their lives if they testified against the government.

Just like with any criminal, the history of U.S. government human experimentation to develop weapons needs to be thoroughly explored. This is their rap sheet from syphilis induction into afro Americans to watch the progression of the disease to dosing citizens with LSD, to radiation being fed to Down syndrome children, and others like veterans who have recently sued over mind control. These patterns set the stage.

Testimony and hearsay are admissible but when it comes to government atrocities especially about these weapons the witnesses are too easy to discredit. One must remember that these are mastermind criminals whom have gotten away with murder and torture for many decades.

Circumstantial evidence is important for those seeking to prove these crimes by the government. Records are shredded or classified top secret so these won't be available. Patterns of attack methods and scripts used provide circumstantial evidence. This is how serial killers are tracked too.
